

Humber Teaching
NHS Foundation Trust

hello
from Humber

Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust

Welcome

from Chief Executive Michele Moran

Thank you for considering applying to join our team at Humber. We know choosing to relocate is a huge decision and that finding the right position is only part of the process.

That's why we've produced this e-magazine – to paint a picture of what life is like living and working here in order to help you decide whether to apply for a job with us.

We've asked three of our staff who moved here from various parts of the country to share their stories. We've looked at how much further your money goes when it comes to buying a house here, and provided information about education and transport. We've also packed in as much information as we can about the many leisure activities the region can offer you in your spare time - from sport and nightlife to exploring some of the beautiful countryside and museums. It's this wealth of cultural activities that saw the Sunday Times list Hull as one of the best places to live in 2017.

I'm sure you'll agree there is something for everyone here and - speaking as someone who has recently been in the same position as you - I can also vouch for the warm welcome and friendly faces that will greet you when you arrive.

I hope you choose to apply for a job with us and I look forward to welcoming you face-to-face at some point in the near future.

What we do...

We provide a very broad range of community services (including therapies), community and inpatient mental health services, learning disability services, healthy lifestyle support and addictions services to people living in Hull, the East Riding of Yorkshire and North Yorkshire - a large geographical area with a population of approximately 700,000.

We also provide specialist services for children including physiotherapy, speech and language therapy and support for children and young people and their families who are experiencing emotional or mental health difficulties.

Our specialist services, such as forensic support and offender health, support patients from the wider Yorkshire and Humber area and from further afield. We employ approximately 2,500 staff and operate from approximately 120 sites.

As a Teaching Trust, we work closely with our major academic partners, Hull York Medical School and Hull University, nurturing a workforce of tomorrow's doctors, nurses and other health professionals.

Our Mission, Vision and Values

Our Mission

Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust - a multi-specialty health and social care teaching provider committed to Caring, Learning and Growing.

Our Vision

We aim to be a leading provider of integrated health services, recognised for the care, compassion and commitment of our staff and known as a great employer and a valued partner.

Our Values

These values shape the behaviour of our staff and are the foundation of our determination to:

- Foster a culture in which safe, high-quality care is tailored to each person's needs and which guarantees their dignity and respect;
- Achieve excellent results for people and communities;
- Improve expertise while stimulating innovation, raising morale and supporting good decision-making;
- Unify and focus our services on early intervention, recovery and rehabilitation;
- Engage with and listen to our patients, carers, families and partners so they can help shape the development and delivery of our healthcare;
- Work with accountability, integrity and honesty; nurture close and productive working relationships with other providers and our partners.

CARING

Caring for people while ensuring they are always at the heart of everything we do

LEARNING

Learning and using proven research as a basis for delivering safe, effective, integrated care

GROWING

Growing our reputation for being a provider of high-quality services and a great place to work

Our Strategic Goals

Innovating quality and patient safety

Enhancing prevention, wellbeing and recovery

Developing an effective and empowered workforce

Promoting people, communities and social values

Fostering integration, partnerships and alliances

Maximising an efficient and sustainable organisation

We're the people for you

We can wax lyrical about our Trust, the vibrant cities, towns and villages in our area, and the huge amount of investment we've seen in Hull and beyond that is set to continue; but there's nothing better than hearing from a voice of experience.

Below, three members of staff who moved to the area when they joined the Trust reveal what it's like to move here and what to do in your spare time. They also talk about professional development and job satisfaction.

Originally from South East London, I studied at the nearby Hull York Medical School which is going from strength to strength due to a recent increase in student numbers. I then went down to the South Coast for my foundation years but was tempted back North by the affordable quality of living that Hull and East Riding offers.

I have begun to establish roots in this part of Yorkshire and love it. My family have been so impressed with the standards they too have relocated here.

Living aside, the quality of training has evolved since my time here, and the impression I get is that the Trust is dynamic and willing to embrace new ideas and concepts.

The level of pastoral support and academic guidance has been impressive and I am thoroughly enjoying my time here at Humber and - perhaps most pertinently - psychiatry.

Being able to train in a medical speciality and enjoy the job, work with colleagues and meet a diverse patient group is enough to get me out of bed in the morning.

I would encourage you to check out Humber and this region as it offers good quality affordable living and working with a supportive team capable of enacting change.

Dr Michael Cottle
Core Trainee Psychiatry 2

We're the people for you

Since the very start, the lovely people in medical staffing and HR have been very helpful and supportive. Everyone is very welcoming and happy to help. The staff I work with have a wealth of information about diverse things like where to get my car fixed and where to get the best coffee (Beverley's Saturday Market). The Trust ensures easy access to training and protected time for learning, e-learning and peer group meetings. There are generous relocation expenses, which in my case were made available very efficiently. The appointments set up for me with occupational health, for my checks and hepatitis jabs etc. made me feel cared for. In all the meetings with other consultants and management teams I feel listened to and respected. I have become an appraiser here and can confirm that the appraisal system, MyL2P, is easy and effective.

My experience has been so positive. I feel rejuvenated. Last week I drove across the Humber Bridge and back again just to admire the view. Moving UP NORTH? Best decision of my life!

Dr Diana Tamlyn
Consultant Forensic Psychiatrist

I was not a stranger to Hull when I transferred to Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust (HTFT) in February 2017. With a partner already settled in the city, I was in Hull (literally) every weekend when I wasn't on call. What struck me about the city is the genuine warmth of its people: being greeted politely and genuinely by strangers. The variety of good quality, independent restaurants was and is a pleasant (and satiating) surprise and makes it a perfect way to unwind after a busy day at work.

HTFT has allowed me to expand my skill set into the realms of management and establish reliable contacts with my seniors. I have had the misfortune to have gone through a few familial difficulties this past year but I can honestly say that my supervisors have gone above and beyond what I expected and have been some of the most supportive consultants I have ever worked with. I can extend that sentiment to the Medical Staffing Team which has been, and continues to be, accommodating, considerate and compassionate.

I have had the pleasure of witnessing the benefits that 'City of Culture' status has had on Hull. I have participated in our newly improved induction programme which has been well received and has highlighted how keen HTFT is to have its trainees closely involved in implementing changes. HTFT has helped me to mould myself into becoming a more well-rounded doctor. Personally, it has taught me efficiency, resilience and that there is no shame in asking for help.

Hull is my home now and I would actively encourage you to consider making it yours.

Dr Janani Jaganathan, Core Trainee 3

We're the people for you

If you're considering a move to Hull, take the leap! With the support of Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust you will have access to a prosperous career and discover Hull as a hidden gem to raise a family.

Shedding its old reputation, Hull has recently had a 'facelift' befitting 'City of Culture' status. The marina offers a mesmerising view combining neo-architecture of trendy bars and restaurants combined with rustic historical buildings dotted along the riverside. It gives Hull its unique and fascinating character.

If you're still unsure you may wish to consider some of the reasons that enticed me...

Career Prospects

I have lived all over England from the Midlands to down South, the outskirts of London and the pastoral East; yet I can truly say people here are friendly and genuine. With its unique size and ambition, Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust is fertile ground in which you can grow for yourself a bright career. With a wealth of opportunity, it also offers an exceptional lifestyle and extraordinary career progression. Humber has a keen appetite to nurture those with new vision for services, excellent leadership qualities and a passion for academic research via our connection with the local medical school, Hull York Medical School (HYMS). Humber's consultant body is a good mix of senior experienced clinicians, with an injection of new-blood consultants recently completing their Certificate of Completion of Training. There is a tradition of junior doctors who trained here returning for consultant posts. This speaks volumes for the Trust.

Convenience

Hull and its surrounding villages have ample to offer in terms of modern amenities and activities. Conveniently located by the coast of Yorkshire, you are never too far from other major cities such as Leeds or York. If the great outdoors is more your thing, you will not be disappointed with the selection of adjacent areas of outstanding natural beauty (AONB). Between Beverley and Hull you should have plenty of clubs, groups and theatres to choose from. Alternatively, leave from the local airport for a quick getaway or hop over to Amsterdam on the ferry. There is enough to keep you busy without the excess hustle and bustle of an overwhelming city. Over the last few years various restaurants and cuisines have popped up in Hull. The Fruit Market is a good place for a relaxing drink with a view, or Princes Avenue for those who crave the nightlife.

Quality of Life

Once you get a taste for it, there's nowhere else quite like living and working in Yorkshire. And Hull is indeed the 'unseen rose of Yorkshire'! The scenery, culture and entertainment are just a few of the reasons why the quality of life in Hull surpasses other places. Hull's surrounding villages offer impeccable value for money and welcoming neighborhoods. You have to see them to believe them. Did you also know that some very reputable schools are found in the locality, including Hymers College, which ranks in the top 30 in the country? With all that is on offer between Hull and Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust, the only question left is why has it taken so long for you to join us?

Dr Doug Ma, Consultant Psychiatrist
and Royal College Tutor

We've got the job for you

We have a range of exciting opportunities available at Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust for consultant psychiatrists and SAS doctors across the following mental health specialties:

General Adult – Inpatient and Community
Older People
Child and Adolescent (CAMHS)
Learning Disability
Forensic

We are unique in that we will endeavour to accommodate areas of special interest:

'We aim to personalise the post to the person'

Medical Education is linked into wider innovation, research and development within the Trust. We strive to create an educational environment where innovation and research can flourish.

"This department is a credit to the NHS. It demonstrates the highest quality care. I cannot praise my physiotherapist highly enough. Thank you." Whitby MSK Physiotherapy Outpatient Service (Friends and Family Test survey)

"The services and support I have had have been extremely good and I can't fault any of them. I feel very well looked after. Sometimes I think to myself, I have all these people coming in, helping and doing things for me, I think I'm the Queen of Sheba!" Pocklington Neighbourhood Carer Services (Patient Story)

"I feel better talking to people". Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services, Rivendell House

"Fantastic, welcoming, listened to, offered help and advice and dealt with honestly and at times with laughter and banter." Crisis Pad (Service Users' feedback survey)

"Absolutely everybody was courteous, approachable and professional. I felt so supported on every single visit. Looking back now, it saved my life and I can't emphasise that enough. The best way I can describe the whole experience was like a hug without the physical touch." Electroconvulsive Therapy (ECT) service (Patient Story)

"Staff were lovely to me. I had a right laugh with some of them, actually. I met lots of lovely people (patients) and heard lots of stories from them. It was the wake-up call I needed to sort myself out. A lot happier in myself and actually hoping to work somewhere similar in a few years, hopefully. They are compassionate and helped me out a great deal. I think the staff do a brilliant job. Actually miss the place already." Avondale (NHS)

"Everyone is so lovely and helpful in every way." Goole Addictions Service (Friends and Family Test survey)

Medical Education

The Trust is committed to the education of doctors at all levels and we have a small but active Medical Education Department under the Medical Directorate. Our Medical Education Strategy is:

‘To promote and deliver excellence and provide the best possible training experience for undergraduate medical students and postgraduate trainees.’

We are a Health Education England (HEE) local education provider and have a successful core training programme; in 2016 the scheme was rated in the top five in the country in the General Medical Council (GMC) National Training Survey. Trainees actively participate in the Wednesday morning local teaching programme which includes invited speakers as well as journal clubs. Higher trainees (ST 4-6) from HEE Yorkshire and Humber also work in the Trust. In addition, the Trust trains GP trainees and foundation doctors.

Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust is a major teaching partner with the Hull York Medical School (HYMS), which this year is celebrating 10 years of graduates. Following a successful expansion bid HYMS has recently been allocated 90 additional places. The medical school is committed to improving the mental health teaching of its students and this year has appointed a Director of Mental Health (Dr Janine Henderson, Consultant Psychiatrist) to oversee and reshape the undergraduate mental health curriculum. Similarly, the Trust is committed to improving the undergraduate experience and is continuously monitoring feedback and making changes. Elective placements are being developed and we support a range of Student Special Interest programmes. Consultants play a very active role in undergraduate teaching and examining, and for those involved HYMS awards the title of Honorary Senior Lecturer.

On an annual basis the Medical Education department runs a Psychiatry Taster event for aspiring medical students and a very successful Sixth Form medical work experience programme.

Meet our Team

Dr Stella Morris – Director of Medical Education (DME)

Dr Doug Ma – College Tutor

Dr Reena Roy – Associate Director of Clinical Studies – HYMS (ADoCS)

Dr Zeeshan Hashmani – Junior Doctor HYMS Lead

Gillian Hughes – Medical Directorate and Medical Education Manager

Sally Morrell-Witty – Postgraduate Secretary

Through our Prospective Consultant Networking Programme, many of our psychiatry trainees return to the Trust as qualified consultants.

Research and Development

We have a well-established Research Department which sits within the Medical Directorate and hosts an annual research conference. Take a look at the short video we played at our 2018 conference showing the impact research has on our community - <https://youtu.be/LBqULBKRIAE>.

I am new to the organisation and am delighted how active Humber is with research.
Thank you! Inspiring event to see and hear a local commitment to doing things differently.

We recognise the importance of investing in research, enabling our staff to learn and grow and our community to participate in healthcare improvement. As there is evidence that people tend to do better in organisations that do research, we view this as core business and are committed to working with local, national and international research experts and evaluating innovative healthcare interventions. We are sometimes even the first to test ground-breaking new treatments.

Assessing the effectiveness of a new therapy for young people with phobias

Date: 05 September 2017

Researchers at Humber NHS Foundation Trust have recruited the first patient in England to a study to assess the effectiveness of a new treatment for phobias in children. The research project is supported by the National Institute for Health Research Clinical Research Network Yorkshire and Humber (CRN Yorkshire and Humber).

The team, part of the Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS) at the trust, will be assessing whether the newer form of therapy is effective as a treatment for phobias in the same way that the standard therapy is, and also investigating whether it offers better value for money.

We are an active partner in the Yorkshire and Humber Clinical Research Network and are immensely proud of our research activity; based on our population size we recruit a significantly larger proportion of people into National Institute for Health Research studies than other trusts across the country providing similar services. We have a team of researchers who promote, facilitate and support these studies in collaboration with our clinical teams.

The light is back on with hope and stresslessness, with the project bringing new friendships, in helping to live instead of dreading the future. We are now making new memories and enjoying life..... With friends at the touch of a button and help of all kinds, life is worth living after all.

Thank you for giving me a voice

(Research Participant comment)

For those who wish, there are opportunities to take on local principal investigator roles in research projects, with support as required, or to lead and generate research as a chief investigator.

This is the place for you

We provide a range of services for three clinical commissioning groups covering Hull, the East Riding of Yorkshire and North Yorkshire. This means the geographical area we operate in is vast and the difference in landscape as you drive from one location to another is huge.

From the bustling city of Hull, that has seen huge investment in recent years in preparation for its reign as the UK City of Culture in 2017, to thriving market towns such as Beverley and Driffield, which host music and food festivals throughout the year, the area's diversity is rich.

There are traditional seaside towns and Yorkshire villages surrounded by rolling countryside just waiting to be explored.

This is the place for you

In Hull, the East Riding and North Yorkshire you're spoilt for choice when it comes to places to live.

There are city centre apartments with bars, theatres, restaurants and shops on your doorstep, the different suburbs of Hull and everything from Georgian townhouses through to modern new-build developments catering for all tastes.

Moving out of Hull, there are plenty of options in the towns and villages of the East Riding and Scarborough and Ryedale, where you can make the most of the glorious countryside. You also get a lot for your money here too. Let's see what £400,000 could buy you compared to the rest of the country...

EAST RIDING

This large house is in the East Riding village of Walkington, near Beverley. It's close to shops and pubs, has great public transport links and comes with the quintessential country home essentials - a wood-burning stove and an Aga.

MANCHESTER

This new-build apartment has two bedrooms and is located in the new St John's development in central Manchester. The new city centre neighbourhood will offer culture, leisure and entertainment in one place.

HULL

In Hull's Newland Park conservation area you could buy this large five-bedroomed house with four reception rooms. Designed by well-known architect Broderick, the house is within walking distance of Hull Uni in a sought-after location with a large garden.

CLAPHAM

In Clapham, south London, you could buy this one-bedroomed, third floor flat near Clapham Common. The flat has vibrant cafes, bars and restaurants on its doorstep and is just a few metres from Clapham South tube station.

EAST RIDING

This five-bedroomed detached house in the village of Brandesburton has three reception rooms, half an acre of land, a paddock and outbuildings with stunning open views of the East Riding countryside. It is located near a nature reserve that is home to a wide variety of animals.

Outstanding private and state schools plus a world-class university on your doorstep

We're lucky to have some great schools across Hull and the East Riding in both the state and independent sectors. In 2016, state secondary schools in the East Riding achieved one of the highest scores in the north of England in the Progress 8 measure, which shows how much children have learned since leaving primary school. In the independent sector, Hymers College in Hull achieved one of the best sets of A-level results in the country in 2015.

We also have several higher education institutes in the region, with the beautiful Hull University campus in the heart of the city. The University of Coventry has a state-of-the-art campus in Scarborough, and York University is an integral part of the highly regarded Hull York Medical School (HYMS). The Allam Medical Building, at the heart of HYMS' £28million health campus, has been announced as a winner in The Guardian's University Awards 2018.

Schools

There are a range of schools across the area catering for all: from fee-paying independents, at primary and secondary level, to state schools; from state-of-the-art new builds offering all the modern facilities you could want, through to beautiful old buildings steeped in history. There are academies, language colleges and alternative schools that specialise in teaching children with additional mental and/or physical health needs.

Hull University

The University of Hull first opened its doors to students over 90 years ago and has earned its reputation as one of the country's finest teaching universities. It promotes itself as the 'friendly university', a statement backed up by feedback from those who study there and statistics showing that a huge number of students who come to Hull end up staying there. It is investing in the future with a £200million project to improve buildings and facilities, including a £28 million health campus, new luxury student accommodation and the £9.5 million renovation of Middleton Hall into a high-quality performance venue and cinema space.

When you think of our area, you might think we're that funny little outpost at the end of the M62. You need to make a special journey to get here and once you are here you're pretty much isolated, right?

That might be what you'd think, but the transport infrastructure makes it easy to travel in and around Hull and the East Riding, so you can get to work quickly and easily during the week and enjoy everything the region has to offer at weekends.

If you need to, it's very easy to travel out of the area too, with regular trains connecting us to the rest of the country, a ferry port connecting us to Europe and an international airport on our doorstep.

Airports

Humberside Airport is just a 30-minute drive away from the centre of Hull and offers services to a number of international destinations including Amsterdam's Schiphol Airport, a major European hub for air travel.

Also within an hour's travel time is Leeds Bradford Airport and Doncaster Sheffield Airport.

Ferries

P&O Ferries operates its North Sea Ferries services from King George Dock in Hull. It runs daily services to Rotterdam and Zeebrugge, including overnight mini-cruises. By taking your car, you can enjoy a relaxing night on board before waking up the next day ready to drive to your destination.

Train Services

Hull Trains is an award-winning rail operator running 92 direct services a week from Hull and the Humber region direct to the capital. It is the UK's leading rail operator for passenger satisfaction.

Services run from 6.26am through to 7.11pm and will have you pulling into King's Cross in just over two and a half hours.

Regular services also run between Hull and Leeds, Manchester, Sheffield and Newcastle, along with routes across the East Riding itself.

DRIVING TIMES

From the centre of Hull you can be on the M62 in no time. Check out the average travel times below that show how easy it is to get to other areas of the country, or, more importantly, for friends and relatives to come to visit you and see what we have to offer here!

Hull - Hornsea (Yorkshire Coast): 40 minutes

Hull - York: 1 hour 14 minutes

Hull - Yorkshire Moors: 1 hour 38 minutes

Hull - Manchester: 2 hours 6 minutes

Hull - Newcastle: 2 hours 34 minutes

Hull - Lake District: 3 hours

Hull - London: 4 hours 13 minutes

The arts and theatre scene in Hull and the East Riding has always been vibrant, but as the city was crowned the UK City of Culture in 2017, there's even more on offer. Hull Truck Theatre will continue to produce shows by well-known playwrights and local talent as well as hosting comedians and screening films. Hull New Theatre and East Riding Theatre will also have packed schedules.

There are a huge range of museums and art galleries alongside a thriving music scene, with regular events including the Freedom Festival, Humber Street Sesh, Cottingham Folk Festival and TribFest just some of the events which take place each year.

If dining out is your thing, there is plenty on offer from traditional pubs to Michelin-starred restaurants and everything in between. Highlights include the Triton Inn in Brantingham for an excellent lazy Sunday lunch in front of the fire, the Pipe and Glass in South Dalton for a special occasion, and 1884 Dock Street Kitchen in Hull for dining in a beautiful setting.

There's myriad other options, though, from authentic Japanese, Moroccan and Indian restaurants to the best fish and chips you're likely to have in your life.

Nightlife here can be whatever you want it to be, from evenings spent sharing a bottle of wine with friends over tapas through to those unplanned nights out spent dancing that you'll never forget.

With new venues opening all the time, you can spend the night in a wine bar or a craft beer place on Princes Avenue in Hull, visit the old town to visit some of the hidden venues in Tudor buildings, or head to the newly renovated Fruit Market to hang out with the hipsters. In Beverley you've got everything from country pubs through to more lively venues with regular DJs and busy dancefloors.

Sport

Sports fans in Hull are very well catered for. Whether you like cheering on your favourite team from the stands or prefer getting on the pitch yourself, there is plenty on offer.

For football fans we have a Championship team in Hull City, who play their home games at the KCOM Stadium.

Rugby fans are spoilt for choice with two professional teams in the city, Hull F.C. and Hull K.R. Just make sure you know which one you're supposed to support. If you live east of the River Hull tradition dictates you should be a Hull K.R. fan, while those on the west swear allegiance to Hull F.C.

We also have an ice hockey team in the Premier League with Hull Pirates, based at Hull Arena.

If taking part in sport is more your thing, there's plenty to keep you occupied. There are a range of national and local gym chains (with some offering NHS discounts), Crossfit boxes and running clubs, along with excellent golf courses, tennis clubs and much more.

If you prefer to do your own thing, why not get out into some of the beautiful countryside and go for a run or a hike, or maybe just explore? You'll find lots of great walking trails and running tracks all across the area and the views are completely unparalleled.

UK City of Culture is an event, once every four years, highlighting one location in the UK and promoting arts and culture as a means of celebration and regeneration.

In 2017 Hull was crowned the UK City of Culture.

The BBC reported that a study by Hull University in March 2018 found Hull's status as the UK City of Culture attracted more than five million people, £220m of investment and 800 new jobs.

Last year saw the return of performances to the stage at the Hull New Theatre after its £16m refurbishment, and an amazing opening event with the Royal Ballet.

2018 sees the brand new Hull Venue burst onto the scene. With a capacity of 3,500, this mixed conference and event space will welcome acts when it opens in the summer. Gigs will be announced later in the year, so keep checking online to find out more.

The word is out. Hull really is the new hottest place to take a city break.

Hull will remain the UK City of Culture until the end of 2020.

Ferens Art Gallery

Hull's main art gallery has recently reopened for the City of Culture year following a £5.2m refurbishment. In addition to the permanent collection featuring the works of Canaletto and Henry Moore, a restored 14th-Century gold panel painting, Christ Between Saints Paul and Peter, by Italian Pietro Lorenzetti, was unveiled as the gallery's new star attraction.

A pioneering theatre with a unique, powerful, contemporary northern voice, Hull Truck produces exciting and culturally relevant theatre, hosts famous comedians and is home to Hull Independent Cinema.

Hull Truck

Pride in Hull is an annual event which aims to provide a platform for every part of Hull and East Yorkshire's LGBT+ community to celebrate love and raise awareness of LGBT+ issues. The event starts with a colourful parade through the heart of Hull city centre. The Pride Parade is a showcase of the community and city and concludes in Queen's Gardens, which is full of entertainment, music, food and drinks.

In 2017, 2,000 people took part in the parade, with 44,000 people joining the celebrations in Queen's Gardens.
